The World Wheat Situation

The time is rapidly approaching when the farmers of Western Canada will once again be busily engaged in seeding their iand. As they do so their thoughts naturally will speed forward and they will ponder on the possibilities of the process of the principal transplant possibilities of the principal transplant possibilities of the possibilities of the principal transplant possibilities of the possibilities o secure; that is, whether in the long run, they will reap a profit above the costs of production for their seasor's hard work.

In volume of production, the wheat growers of Western Canada had a good crop last year, now was there much to complain about in the average good crop last year, now was there much to complain about in the average from drought, but the area so affected was much smaller than in the preceding year. Nevertheless, disaster beful our wheat growers because the price obtainable for wheat reached the lowest point in hundreds of years.—far and away below the cost to the farmer of producing the wheat. And as seeding time approaches, there has been practically no betterment in prices. The pre-calling price is still less than it will cost the farmer to produce the wheat.

Like the weather, and so many other factors, the price of wheat is something beyond the power of the farmer to control. He is forced to accept the farmer to produce to accept the farmer to make the second of the price of the farmer to control. He is forced to accept to the farmer to make the second of the price of the farmer to most the farmer to make the second of the farmer to make the second of the price of the farmer to make the second of the price of the farmer to make the second of the price of the second of the will not add a fraction of a cent to that price.

Under these circumstances, farmers,—and everybody else,—are interested in the world wheat situation, because it is that situation which will be the price-fixing and controlling factor. We propose, herefore, to present for the information of readers of this column, certain facts and figures compiled by Donald M. Marvin, Economist, for the Royal Bank of Canada, which were made public on February 1.

First. World shipments of wheat since August 1, 1932, were the smallest in ten years. Shipments to the Orient were relatively large, but other countest took only moderate amounts, and shipments to Europe were very light, as the result of the record crops harvested in many European countries is as years. Notwithstanding this situation, Canada exported a large volume, supplying more than one-half of all the wheat shipped from all wheat exporting countries.

Second. The reason why Europe took only moderate quantities of wheat during the last half of 1932 is accounted for by the fact that bumper crops were harvested here in 1932, and now high records in wheat production were established in Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Creece, Holland, Senndinavilla and Ceecho-Shoraka, while Prance produced 0.00,000 bundeds more than in the previous year. In order to dispose of these supplies, bariffs, quotas, and the previous year. In order to dispose of these supplies, bariffs, quotas, and the previous year in crede to dispose of these supplies, bariffs, quotas, and the previous year. Third. In 1932, owing to unfavorable conditions, wheat production in the United States dropped 175,000,000 bushels compared with 1931, and was 150,000,000 bushels compared with 1931, and was 150,000,000 bushels below the five-year average. But, while the U.S. thus related only above under the transies of the state of t

The condition of the winder heat crop in the United States was, on December 1st last, officially reported as the lowest since 1863. Australia is selling much of her wheat in the riact. Wheat importing countries will, however, require about 22 million unbels less in 1933-33 than was the case in 1931-32. European imports have enrestricted in the first haif of the present crop year in order to expedite as disposal of the domestic supplies created by the bumper crops stready exceen now and July 31 next.

On the other hand, the total surplus of wheat available for export is more than ample to meet all requirements. Supplies in the Southern Hemphere are about the same as last year. Heavy stocks are still held in Campher are about the same as last year. Heavy stocks are still held in Camphere are about the same as a last year.
